- Toys! I love to destuff them. I should mention though that I am not good at sharing them with other dogs.
- Going for walks. It's good for my figure.
- Dog friends, especially small ones like me.
- Treats & food, but I don't share those well either. I also need them in moderation because I am a little chubby.
- Cozy dog beds.
- Snuggles & pets. You are my favourite part of my day.

Buddy

AND NOW A FEW WORDS FROM ME...

Hi, I'm Buddy! I'm 11 years old and looking for my forever home! I'd like a quiet home with someone who's retired or works from home, as I prefer to be around people. I have a little separation anxiety and cry for a bit when my foster mom leaves the house, but I settle down after a while. I've had two back surgeries so a home with minimal or no stairs would be ideal.

I'm on a weight loss journey and my foster mom says I'm already dropping some pounds! I love my walks which has been helping! I'm not the fastest on the leash but my foster mom says I do well for my age! I may be a senior but I'm still spunky and full of life. I LOVE toys! My foster mom hasn't let me have any though because I like to destroy them and can be possessive of them around other dogs. On that note, I have to say that I like the company of other dogs, especially other small dogs like me!

When I get excited I do a spin and bark. But I only bark when I'm excited, or want something I can't have/reach. Other than that I'm a pretty quiet boy, who loves to lounge around on the various dog beds in my foster home. I'm hoping to find my forever home, could it be with you?

I AM...

- Affectionate
- Cuddly
- Dependent. I have separation anxiety.
- Quiet unless I am excited or you leave me.
- Calm
- Curious

Buddy

AND NOW A FEW WORDS FROM MY FOSTER FAMILY...

Buddy is sweet, old gentleman! He is good with other dogs and especially enjoys smaller dogs. He has some toy and food possessiveness around other dogs but seems to be fine with humans.

Buddy has been vetted and is in great health for a Dachshund his age! He will be having extensive dental work and is currently on seasonal allergy medication, eye drops, and a cream for a sore on his leg. He was very good getting his shots at the vet and remains calm while I administer his medicine and eye drops!

Since being in foster care Buddy has started to lose weight. As his weight has dropped, he's become spunkier and more loving! His adoptive family will need to ensure that his weight loss remains a priority so that he can reach his goal weight. Also, because of Buddy's previous back surgeries, his family will need to carry him up and down stairs, ensure that he does not jump on/off furniture, and provide ramps where possible.
