And now a few words from me:

Hi! I'm Hera. I'm very cute, energetic, curious and adventurous. I would love to be part of an active family that will want to play with me and take me places because I don't like being left alone. I love being outside, taking long walks and then cuddling on the couch. I'll keep you company all day long!

And now a few words from my foster family:

Hera is a bit of an anxious dog and needs a minute to acclimate herself to new people. The process only takes a few minutes if she is given the time and space to adjust at her own pace. Once she feels safe and confident, she is fun loving, playful and very affectionate with people. Hera loves her humans!

Hera barks and whines when she gets excited or is left on her own. She will need a handler committed to working with her on the 'quiet' command, while also working to build her confidence and ability to be left on her own. Hera does not like sharing her space of humans with other dogs and will need to be the only dog. Although she tolerates other dogs, supervision would be required when in the presence of other dogs. Her new family will need to set and reinforce boundaries for her, which she will need to learn to respect.
