And now a few words from me:

Hello, my name is Liz and I'm a great girl to hang out with! I love humans a lot and just want to be with you! I will follow you around and happily join you for any adventure that involves the car. I'm a happy girl that loves to explore the outdoors and go for walks. I'm not that interested in toys but I am very interested in warm laps, cuddles and I will do anything for food or treats! When I meet new people, I behave as though I've known them forever! And an added bonus: I will let you know when there is someone coming to the door; I'm basically a small home security system! And we should talk about fashion for a moment because I need to wear sweaters and coats in the colder seasons and in the warmer months, I need to wear a sun shirt. You see, I have no hair on my head – well I have a few tufts -- but no hair on my back all the way to my tail. This has been medically investigated while in foster care and its just a genetic thing from birth. I'm a bundle of fun, and if that sounds good to you, let's meet!

And now a few words from my foster family:

Liz is lovely, happy little girl. She absolutely loves training sessions and is highly food motivated. She can be a bit alpha with certain dogs, so if you have one already it will need to be a good match with Liz. Liz is highly allergic to vaccines and thus will not be vaccinated anymore. She is also allergic to mosquitoes so needs have topical dog-friendly bug repellant during summer season. Liz has a genetic condition called "colour dilution alopecia", which has caused hair loss on her head and back. She needs to have coats on during the cold season and a sun shirt to protect her from the sun in summer, so as not to get sunburned. If you want a partner in crime in your life, Liz is your girl. She prefers someone who is home more often than not.
Mandatory meet and greet in Almonte ,Ontario, just west of Ottawa.
