And now a few words from me:

Hi! I'm Tucker. I'm a 3-year-old Dachshund-Chihuahua mix with a heart full of love and legs ready for adventure (even if they're a little short)! You'll usually hear me pattering around the house, with my quick little feet pitter-pattering right behind you. My foster family says I'm the sweetest little guy around and if you're looking for a professional snuggler, look no further. Cuddling is my thing. I'll admit, I can be a little shy around new people. Loud noises and sudden movements still spook me sometimes, but with a little patience and a lot of love, I'll warm up and become your shadow in no time. Since being in foster care, I've found my courage! I'm getting braver every day! I love going on walks, exploring the yard, and most of all, curling up beside you for quiet time. If you're patient, gentle, and looking for a loyal buddy who'll love you forever, I think we might be a perfect match. Can't wait to meet you!

And now a few words from my foster family:

Tucker has had quite a transformation from the day he arrived; he was afraid of his own shadow and flinched when we tried to pet him. A week later, he's a different dog. He could spend much of his day exploring the yard or going for a long walk. He is amazing on a leash; he's so gentle and he walks like a little gentleman. He doesn't react to other dogs we pass, rather he just keeps on trotting along, focused and calm. His favorite thing is curling up on your lap (or right beside you) for some petting and quiet company. He's incredibly affectionate once he trusts you. And we've been so impressed with how well he listens! He's a quick learner, and when told "no," he remembers and adjusts right away. At night, he sleeps peacefully in his crate until morning, when he pops out ready to greet the day and heads straight outside. Lately, he's also started playing with squeaky toys; he'll toss them around and keep himself entertained. He's been such a joy to foster. With the right family - one that is patient, kind, and willing to give him time to warm up - Tucker will be the most loyal and loving companion. He deserves all the good things in life, and his forever family will be lucky to have him. Being Fostered in Aurora
